

Owning a business is great.

You improve people's lives, control your own time, and grow your potential.

Small Bakery

EXAMPLE

Yet most people stop
growing their business,

◦ because of the following reasons:

1. Time

2. Money

3. Lack of operations systems

◦ to support business processes

Small businesses use their expert knowledge

- just like a Pastry Chef makes an exquisite custom cake.
- Small businesses have low volume and a lot of flexibility
- They sometimes take one job at a time.

- Medium size enterprises work a lot of batches at a regular interval.
- This is how they grow

- Most small businesses strive to become medium size businesses, but when they do, it drives their owners mad.
- because of the following reasons:
 1. Little Time
 2. Little Money
 3. Lack of operations systems
 - to support business processes

- A production system allows you to grow your business with ease.
- A production system is a computer program that provides business intelligence,
 - ... under a set of rules that facilitate automated planning, and action selection.

el-paso-web.org

I help business owners sustain growth by developing production systems

sergio@el-paso-web.org